www.rexcs.com

First and foremost, at REX we believe we are One team, working in tandem with everyone on the project and seeking out the team win; we call that our REX.one philosophy.

Our company's collaborative approach adds a level of innovation to each project. We're a tech-forward company that integrates proven construction methods with modern technology like scheduling software, project capture photography, drones, and more to provide more efficiency, safety, and a better experience for our clients.

Services for Senior Living

- Preconstruction
- Construction Manager
- Design-Build
- General Contractor

Our in-house Structural and MEP Engineering services give our teams access to some of the brightest minds in the industry, even if they're not working on the same project. It also inspires our culture of continual process improvement and our thirst for solving complex problems.

We pride ourselves on maximizing our clients' budgets through extensive value engineering exercises and getting our clients into their buildings as soon as possible, so they start getting returns on their investments quicker.
